

eGovRTD2020 Vilnius Workshop: Future scenarios of eGovernment 2020
26 May 2006

Jointly organized by:

Mykolas Romeris University (LT), Ministry of Interior (LT), University of Koblenz (DE), TU Delft (NL)

Taking place at:

Mykolas Romeris University, Ateities st. 20, Vilnius, LT
Department of Informatics and Statistics, 404 audience

13.00 – 13.10	Introduction of project and workshop goals, welcoming the participants (Prof. dr. Rimantas Petrauskas, Head of Department of Informatics and Statistics, Mykolas Romeris University, Lithuania and Melanie Bicking, project executive, University of Koblenz-Landau, Institute for IS research, Research Group eGovernment, Germany)
13.10 – 13.20	Description of scenarios methodology (Dr. Marijn Janssen, Delf University of Technology, the Netherlands)
13.20 – 14.15	Splitting into groups (max 5-7 persons per group)  Brainstorming about 2020 eGovernment scenarios: describing the visions of future society, market, technology and government, and their interaction in the future environment
14.15 – 14.30	Describing scenarios using the given template
14.30 – 15.00	Coffee break
15.00 – 15.50	Presentations of the scenarios by each group (max 10 minutes per group)
15.50 – 16.20	Scenarios discussion and evaluation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>– Positive and negative implications of each scenario</li> <li>– Extending the scenarios (what's missing)</li> <li>– Voting by rating the probability of each scenario</li> </ul>
16.20 – 16.30	Conclusions and thanking the participants (by workshop organizers)
16.30	The end